Dear Friends and Family,

Picture: Building in Chester, UK.

Hello! We are writing to say that no news is good news. Ethan's stay at the hospital was short. We were only there a week in May! The surgery was a complete success and he's doing great right now. We were so blessed by our church family. They gave us fun stuff to do while at the hospital, visited, bought us dinner, did facetime, and did dinners once we got home. We thank you all for years of praying for Ethan, we are well covered.

Blowing bubbles!
Good lung therapy.

First steps! Going on walks was such an ordeal!

We got the music therapist to visit and Ethan got to jam with her.

Dr. Ethan getting his exercise and playing doctor at the hospital playroom.

Exactly one week after surgery, he was playing basketball with Dad. God is good!

We left with a million balloons! I felt like a parade float!

A foundation has offered to grant a wish for Ethan. They fulfill wishes for kids with life threatening conditions. Ethan wants a fancy playhouse in our yard like this.

In August we attended a church camp focused on missions on the Oregon Coast. This is a great chance to hear from missionaries from around the world.

We stayed in Pacific City, Oregon, which is famous for its haystack rock and dory fishing boats. We also visited with friends nearby.

A brief note to say thanks for helping Rob get to the UK in March for IC meeting and to help ACTION UK.

In July, Catherine led a training seminar for a family helping at a camp in Mexico with missionary Gamaliel Canul.

Sent out 2 refurbished laptops. One to a missionary in Brazil and another to a missionary kid attending Bible college.

This fall we're expecting to be really busy. We also want to go to Europe to visit ACTION missionaries and help with their on the ground tech needs. There are missionaries in a few countries in Europe where we'd love to go so we can help in any way. Please pray for our Europe trip planning and for Ethan's wish fulfillment! Thanks also for praying for Ethan's health issues.

Love,

Rob, Catherine, and Ethan Taylor
